"Swine Flu" Immunization Program Told

By Beverly Wagoner
Health Educator

There will be a community "Swine Flu" immunization program in every county this fall, sometime between mid-September and the latter part of October. The exact time will depend upon when we receive our vaccine in this area.

Influenza is a respiratory disease caused by a virus. Influenza symptoms often come on suddenly and may include some or all of the following: fever, chills, headache, dry cough, soreness and aching in the back and limbs. The fever seldom lasts more than several days, but the patient may feel weakened from several days to a week or more.

Although some drugs are being studied, no medicine is now known to cure influenza. Penicillin and other antibiotics have no effect on it or other viruses, although they may be useful to combat complicating infections such as bronchitis and some types of pneumonia.

In studying influenza viruses, scientists have found that one strain will become prevalent for a year or more, then a genetic change occurs in the virus and a new strain becomes dominant. Public health officials in this country, and throughout the world, watch for such significant changes in influenza viruses in order to be alert to the development and movement of new strains.

A Bivalent Vaccine, containing both Swine Flu vaccine (A/New Jersey/76 and A/Victoria Strain vaccine), is to be used for high risk individuals. A high risk group has been designated as those persons over sixty years of age, persons with respiratory problems, chronic kidney disease, chronic lung disease, pregnant women and persons with cardiac problems. The vaccine will not be given to anyone allergic to eggs because the vaccine is cultured in fertilized hens eggs.

The single (Monovalent) vaccine containing only the A/New Jersey (Swine Flu) virus will be used for the general adult population from age 18 through 60. It will be available in community programs at sites and times to be determined for each county. It will also be available in those physician's offices who want to give it to their own patients.

Ages 3 through 17 will probably have a vaccine prepared for them which may differ in strength and number and doses needed. This has, as yet, not been definitely decided upon. As specific information becomes available on this age group, it will be distributed to the public.

The vaccine is made up of a killed virus and thus will not cause flu in recipients. Reactions are to be expected in about 2-3 per cent of all who take the vaccine, but are quite mild. In fairly extensive clinical trials, the reactions noted were mild fever, muscle aches, general discomfort lasting 1-3 days. The reactions were well controlled with rest, aspirin or other mild analgesics. It is considered to be a very safe vaccine in comparison with many that we have used and still use for other purposes.

The vaccine is free of charge. However, physicians giving it in their own offices may, if they choose, charge a reasonable, customary fee for administration. In the local health department sponsored clinics, a donation may be given if you choose, to help defray the cost of the program to the department.

The health department is seeking the help of volunteers to help with the large community clinics that we expect to have. In each county we appeal to physicians, nurses, L.P.N.'s, pharmacists, lay groups, such as service clubs and organizations, church groups, medical and hospital auxiliaries, etc., to volunteer their services for clerical, traffic control, and professional duties needed for this massive effort. If you are interested in helping, please contact the health department nurse or secretaries in your county health department office and let them know what you can do to help.

Dates for the clinics will be published in newspapers, on radio and T.V. when we have the vaccine.

Foster Grandparents Wanted

Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency has been selected as the sponsor for the Foster Grandparents Program funded through the State Action Office. The Foster Grandparents Program which is truly a program based on love was initiated in September 1965 to develop opportunities for meaningful activities for low-income senior citizens, sixty years of age and older. The foster grandparent role is really very simple; to establish a consistent, ongoing, one-to-one relationship with emotionally and/or physically handicapped children.

Baseball Picnic

Team 3, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, who finished first place in Senior League baseball, had their team picnic Tuesday, August 24th, at Jellystone Park.

Championship trophies were awarded to all the team members by their manager, LeRoy Mills.

The team would like to thank the management of Jellystone Park for their generous hospitality.

TWO VIKING gridgers prepare to go through one of the many early morning drills in preparation for the 1976-77 football season.

Harrison Hornets Here

The 1975 Varsity football season will get underway Friday evening, September 10th when the Vikings take on the Harrison Hornets in a non-conference game, with the kick-off slated for 8:00 p.m.

The Viking Junior Varsity will see its first action September 9th, when they travel to Harrison for a 6:30 contest.

Grayling's freshmen will get their season underway on Thursday, September 16, in a home game against Gladwin scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

Grayling fans will have their first look at new head coach Bill Klinger who is enthusiastic and "personally looking forward to the coming season." The Vikings will be trying to improve on last year's 2-7 season and according to Klinger, "the team shows a great deal of spirit and desire, even though they are somewhat small and lack experience."

Klinger, who comes from assistant coaching positions in Roseville and East Detroit, will have only five returning lettermen on his squad. All seniors, they include: Will Roach, tailback; Bill Dean, tight end; Allan Johnston, fullback and Marty O'Mara as guard. Other players expected to see a great deal of action are Mike Money, Chip Nicholas, Mark Golinick, Mike Schilbe, Ross Helmick, Steve Olson and Doug Sajdak.

Coach Klinger will be assisted by Don Ferguson and Fred Wolcott, who will be working primarily with the defensive squad.

In early practices the Vikings have shown a great deal of speed, especially on defense.

Although the Viking linemen are not tall, they average more than 200 lbs.

Must Sign Complaint

[By B.J. Fowler, Grayling Twp. Supervisor]

During the month of August my office has received numerous complaints regarding barking dogs. In most cases the person complaining has been unwilling to sign a complaint or give their name.

The township does have an ordinance covering barking dogs but it is only a misdemeanor offense. In order for the township to take action it is necessary to have a complaining witness who is willing to sign the complaint.

Without this about all we can do is contact the dog owner and hope they will correct the problem. These same requirements hold true for all misdemeanor offenses.

This lack of complaining witnesses is a problem that hampers law enforcement across the state. I have heard our Sheriff's Department personnel discuss this problem at meetings with property owners associations on a number of occasions.

The township will continue to accept complaints of this nature but very little can be done to resolve the problem unless the complaining party is willing to become involved.

Fall Tree Planting Just Around The Corner

by Willard E. Bosserman, County Extension Director

Ron Weaver, County Executive Director for Roscommon Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Lake City reminded me that the fall tree planting season is almost upon us. If you have considered putting land into trees, now is the time to act.

You could be eligible to receive cost-share for tree stock, planting, and herbicides, where 10 or more acres are involved. You have to follow forestry division, DNR specifications, but they are designed to give a greater chance of survival.

Eligible species include White Spruce, Norway Spruce, Red and White Pine.

Roscommon County property owners can contact the County ASCS office, Rt. #1, Box 224, Lake City, MI 49651, phone number (616) 839-2069 for more information. Crawford County property owners can contact Burton Griner, ASCS office in Kalkaska, MI.

Trees are available from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and private nurseries. The Soil Conservation District does not have trees for fall planting, but will have some next spring.

There is money available for this practice as well as for forestry improvement practices through the ASCS office.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

Mary Kay Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Hunter arrived in Grayling on Aug. 8 to spend a short time with her parents. She drove to Nashville where she saw the Grand Ole Opry and continued on to Atlanta, Ga. to spend a week with her sister, Gail. They drove to Washington, D.C. to sight-see for 3 days and took the train into New York City where they spent four days, part of them taking in some plays. Upon their return to Washington, Gail flew home to Atlanta and Mary Kay drove to Niles, Ohio, where she picked up Julie Jenkins who returned to Grayling with her for a few days. Both girls returned to Minneapolis, Minn. where Mary Kay will remain and Julie was to return to Kent State.

Art Thayer returned on Monday from 10 days spent at Chapleau, Ont., visiting friends. Also arriving at the Thayer home were April Thayer, and her sister, Sherril Dibble, from New York City. April had been to New York to visit and Sherril returned with her for a couple of weeks. Sherril lives in the city where her husband is completing his residency at St. Luke's.

Paul Sojka, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sojka, graduated from MSU in June with high honors from the Honors College. His major is physics and he is continuing at MSU for his master's in Mechanical Engineering.

Guests of Mrs. Carl E. Johnson on the AuSable Mainstream a week ago were Inez Gotberg of Buffalo, N. Y., and Ellen Lindman of Miami, Fla. Tressa had not seen Inez in 35 years but they had kept in touch through Christmas letters. She had not seen Ellen since the 1956 Schofield Bible Class Reunion in Detroit. Axel Gotberg brought his sister and Ellen up from Detroit. Mrs. Johnson has been kept busy in August as she has had 26 visitors during that time.

delight everyone of all ages. His products do everything from killing weeds to producing flowers; from removing spots to changing colors; from hatching doves to baking cakes right before your very eyes.

You will see the amazing and baffling, often hilarious results of the doctor's applications of Sleight - of - hand, Prestidigitation and Thaumaturgy. A pretty young lady may get cut into pieces or disappear, but she's always on hand, in remarkably fine shape for the next performance.

Dr. Dean's magical prowess has been bringing laughter to persons of all ages for nearly 35 years. "Magic holds a fascination for all ages," asserts Dr. Dean. "The mysteries of trickery may be ancient, but the appeal still is strong today." He adds, "For fun, fantasy and delightful deception, magic can't be beat." To take a line from his medicine show, "It's a marvelous elixir, good for young or old, man or beast; the old maids love it and the children cry for it."

Dr. Dean learned his skills by watching magicians and figuring out their secrets. "At first I made all my own tricks and equipment. I was not aware that they could be purchased from magic manufacturing companies."

At first he worked from one suitcase and a table. Today his equipment would fill a semi-trailer and countless packing cases. Dr. Dean's complete show is considered one of the largest magic shows on tour in America today. A real motor-bike ridden by a boy will vanish in mid-air. This program also will include a magic lesson, a demonstration and discussion of Extra-Sensory Perception and other Psychic Phenomenon.

Featured in the Dean Show are many of the world's most sensational magical illusions. They have been seen on the headline shows of television. Now you can see them presented in person on the stage.

"The audience is just as important as the magician to the creation of magic," states Dr. Dean. "The audience has to react to the tricks to help create the illusions." Dean enlists members of his audiences to help him perform his tricks and they become official members of the Guild of Helpers. An unsuspecting helper will become a willing victim for the guillotine. She may be nervous; she may be excited, but she won't lose her head.

Dean declines to reveal his secrets. "It's strictly unethical for a magician to reveal the tricks of his trade," he says. After 34 years of performing, Dean says, "Any 5-year old child can do this with 25 years of practice."

His own children take his magic very seriously and often assist Dean in the show. Several years ago, one of the children, frightened by a noise in his room, took Dean's advice and effectively used, "Abracadabra" to banish the noise from the room. Dean's wife, Irene, says that Dean is "the envy of all husbands — he can vanish his wife at will."

The Grayling Band parents are bringing this delightful show to Grayling, and proceeds will go toward equipment for the '76 Viking Marching Band. See you there.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1976

From Our Corner...

We are really being taxed this week to come up with something to fill the space in our corner.

The past week around our house has been everything but normal, with the big boss spending most of the time in Traverse City with her mother ...

... and now with this week starting off with 2 Sundays (or so it seemed) caught your favorite editor mulling to himself Tuesday morning when our gal Kathie asked for our column so she could get it set.

We normally do our weekly masterpiece Monday evening — Labor Day tossed us a curve — now we find ourselves struggling Tuesday afternoon with our helpers passing remarks about hurry up — we want to close the paper today, not next week.

A funny thing happened to us last Wednesday at the golf course — which is funny we even showed up. Anyhow, we were late coming in from our round, and were told it was a good thing ... seeing as how we had made stalwart enemies of the winners of the golf stag day. The funny thing is, we can't figure why ... we put their ugly mugs on the front page.

An Idle Thought: Wonder what John A. would do, if he was still around.

We probably should mention, seeing as how we have been to Traverse this past week ... we somehow managed to spend some time with the bigger boss, T.J., and her mom and dad.

Space is still available, but time has run out for our corner ... have a nice weekend, and remember — in order to have friends ... one has to be one.

Of interest to the friends of Mrs. Ollie McLeod will be the announcement of her marriage on August 30th to William E. Hathaway of Lansing. The couple spent the weekend in Grayling visiting the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Hermann.

Mrs. George Barber entertained "The Birthday Club" Thursday afternoon. Mrs. LeRoy Scott, Mrs. Herbert Stephan, Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Richard Thompson received birthday gifts from the group.

Marius Hanson is feeling good over a 39 score that he shot Tuesday. Roy Mines, too, turned in a 39 first of the week. That is remarkable since this is Roy's first year at Golf. T. P. Peterson is one of the latest to take up the game.

Farnum Matson drove to Battle Creek today accompanying Miss Elizabeth who will enter Battle Creek School of Physical Education.

Angus McPhee, who has been cooking at Big Creek Cabin at Lovells, has returned to West Branch.

School has started at Lovells with Miss Nellie Fry as teacher. Doris, Hattie and Jennie Small of Lovells have gone to Mio to attend High School.

Mrs. Henry P. Baumgras submitted to a serious operation at Mercy Hospital Tuesday.

69 YEARS AGO

September 12, 1907

Circuit Court and a rush of work has crippled our local columns this week and our county correspondents are nearly all delinquent.

Miss Florence Tromble went to Detroit yesterday where she will take a position as nurse in St. Mary's Hospital.

It is reported that the jury on the McKinley and Brown robbery case stood for a long time 11 to 1 for conviction, and at no time was less than 9 to 3.

Miss Julia Michelson, who spent her vacation in Grayling, has returned to Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Salting arrived yesterday for one of their semi-occasional visits. The return of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hanson from Europe hastened their coming at this time.

John Mason caught a flying piece of plank from the edger in the big mill last week. It cut an ugly gash across the cheek and knocked him out of the ring, worse than a deflated prize fighter.

The Douglas Co. has the frame up for a new barn. Business is expanding. Blackberries are being gathered by the wagon load. It would make an artistic soul grow glad to get a snapshot at some of the feminine parties in the brush, as they are encased in trousers and rubber boots. Nelson's load of Monday is said to have won the prize.

"Our claims service is fast, fair and nationwide."

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Jehovah Our Supporter And Preserver

"Thou art Jehovah, even thou alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all things that are thereon, the seas and all that is in them, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee." Nehemiah 9:6 ASV

In a previous article, we saw scriptural proof that the Lord Jesus Christ is Jehovah the creator of all things. (Remember I Cor. 8:6, Eph 3:9, Col. 1:16, 17, Heb. 1:2, 10, Rev. 3:14 and John 1:3.) Today we shall study the Jehovah who preserves all things, and receives the worship of the Heavenly host.

"For in him were all things created, in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created through him, and unto him; and he is before all things, and in him all things consist." Col. 1:16, 17 ASV. The word consist could also be translated "hold together". The Lord Jesus Christ not only created all things which exist, but He also holds all things together. "God ... hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds: Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high." Heb 1:1-3.

In the above scriptures we not only see Jesus Christ holding all things together, but we are told how He does it. The same spoken Word of God which created all things continues to hold all things together.

There seems to be little question concerning the fact that Jesus Christ is the creator and preserver of all things. Is He the very Jehovah of the Old Testament who alone is worshipped as God? "And again, when he bringeth in the first-begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him." Hebrews 1:6.

Now Jesus knew that God alone was to receive worship. "Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan; for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." Matt 4:10. Jesus not only accepted worship as God, he even welcomed it. "Ye call me Master and Lord; and ye say well; for so I am." John 13:13.

Let us all worship the Lord Jesus Christ declaring: "Thou art Jehovah, even thou alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all things that are thereon, the seas and all that is in them, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee." Nehemiah 9:6 ASV. (adv.) Pastor Barnett

We are looking for people who are willing to give of themselves, people who can share talents and love with youth who have special problems.

If you are interested in becoming a foster grandparent in your community we will be taking applications on September 15th at the Grayling Elementary School between the hours of 1:00 and 3:00. For more information about the program, please call your local Senior Citizen Center. The phone number is 517/348-9314.

Parkinson-Gardner Vows Spoken

On Saturday, August 7, at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Gaylord, Marjorie Lee Parkinson became the bride of John Edward Gardner. The Rev. Charles H. Hewitt officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parkinson of Gaylord, formerly of Roscommon. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gardner II of Atlanta are the groom's parents.

The bride wore a white floor length gown of flocked flowered voile and Venice lace for the 6:30 ceremony. It was styled with a scoop neckline, adorned with Venice lace, gathered bodice, bishop sleeves, a cummerbund effect at the waist and a fully gathered skirt with a deep flounce. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of matching lace. Her bouquet of white carnations and white roses was placed on three tiers of lace with matching lace and ribbon streamers.

Theresa Baggett of Manuka Lake was the matron of honor. She was attired in a yellow knit floor length gown with headpiece and veil and carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations.

Shella Parkinson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore an apricot knit tiered floor length gown with matching headpiece and veil and carried a bouquet of apricot and white carnations.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Dennis Rotenberry of Fairfax, Virginia, brother-in-law of the groom. The groomsmen were Arthur Patzer of Gaylord. Guests were seated by Dan Parkinson of Gaylord, brother of the bride, and Bob Miller of Roscommon.

The vows were spoken before the church altar which was decorated with white daisies and yellow carnations with baby's breath. Mrs. Shirley Bates of Gaylord was the organist. The bride's cousin, Mrs. Nancy Doersam of Battle Creek, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "For All We Know".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Parkinson wore a floor length gown of blue knit with matching jacket and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a yellow and white eyelet floor length gown and wore a corsage of yellow and white carnations and roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Corwith Hall in Vanderbilt. A week's trip to Ohio and Virginia followed for the newlyweds.

The bride attended Roscommon High School and graduated from Gaylord High School in 1975. She is employed at the Gaylord Swiss Bakery.

The bridegroom graduated from Fairfax High School in Virginia in 1974. He entered the Army August 26 and is stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri. After his recruit training, the couple expects to reside in Texas where he will be assigned.

Supreme court

Richard Milliman

Generally speaking, I favor drastic revision of Michigan's method of judicial selection.

Take the Michigan Supreme Court, for example. Our long-standing system is a non-sensical hybrid - candidates for the 7-member court are nominated by a partisan, political convention, and then run on a non-partisan ballot. The method, which has been around in Michigan as long as I can remember, doesn't really make much sense.

With adoption of our present state Constitution in 1963 a new wrinkle was added. In addition to our partisan-non-partisan mishmash of judicial election, incumbent justices were allowed to renominate themselves by filing an affidavit of candidacy. That has added a bit to the confusion.

Other sections of Michigan law provide methods whereby minority parties with relatively few members also can place candidates for the supreme court, on the non-partisan judicial ballot right alongside the big party choices. In fact, one of the sitting justices formed a new political party, which nominated him for the supreme court, and he won.

As I said, generally speaking, I favor revision of this system, tending toward something like appointment with life tenure, or something of the sort.

But if such reform ever comes, Michigan election watchers will miss out on one of our more interesting political phenomena.

The one-judge political party, which produced present Justice Charles Levin, is one example.

In a state such as Michigan, which is heavily Democratic, a Republican candidate for the supreme court generally has slim chance for election, unless he has a recognizable name, such as O'Hara or Fitzgerald or something of that nature, along with a good, sound judicial record. Then he might win.

Or if the Republican-nominated candidate is somewhat unusual - such as an attractive, qualified, articulate woman, like Justice Mary Coleman - then she might win.

But usually, Republican chances are rather dark in Supreme Court races.

This year, for example, what with resignations and deaths, the voters will fill three seats on the Supreme Court.

One is currently held by the chief justice, a man with a political powerful name and venerable record, Justice Thomas Giles Kavanagh. Democrats nominated him 8 years ago.

The other two are filled by Republican appointees - Justice Lawrence B. Lindemer, and Justice James Ryan.

In a normal political situation, it could be predicted that Justices Kavanagh and Ryan would be elected, and that Justice Lindemer would have a tougher time of it, depending upon the record and name of the candidate Democrats nominated against him.

But chances are it just won't work out that way at all this year.

Justices Kavanagh, Lindemer and Ryan all nominated themselves by affidavit, under the 1963 Constitutional provision, and each seeks a specific term.

In addition, all three asked for nomination from their party conventions; Lindemer and Ryan were endorsed by Republicans with pleasure, while Kavanagh was denied Democratic backing at his convention. The main reason is Kavanagh's position that incumbent justices should not campaign against other incumbent justices - a view not held in high esteem by his fellow Democrats, especially with Lindemer and Ryan up for grabs this year.

So instead, Democrats nominated another candidate for Kavanagh's seat - Circuit Judge Roman Gribbs, a former Detroit mayor. Republicans, meanwhile, nominated Circuit Judge Joseph Swallow of Alpena, a former state legislator. That makes for some unknown ramifications; what could have been a Kavanagh cake walk may well be the deposing of an incumbent - or at least an electoral donnybrook.

But that's not all. Zoltan Ferency, former Democratic state chairman and one-time Democratic candidate for governor, also hankers after a supreme court seat. So he was nominated by the Human Rights Party for the Lindemer seat, making that a three-way race also featuring Wayne Circuit Judge Blair Moody, the regular Democratic nominee, who also owns a powerful vote-getting name. In my view, Ferency's maneuver moves Lindemer from the role of underdog to at least an even bet.

The third race is more straightforward. Justice Ryan, the Republican nominee, will square off against another Wayne Circuit Judge, Charles Kaufman. It's a battle between two popular vote-getting names, but the incumbency likely will pull Ryan through.

What a year for the supreme court. Certainly we should have some sort of reform in selecting justices; but think of all the fun we'll miss.

Golnick-Mitchell Exchange Vows

Julie Ann Golnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Golnick of 506 Ogemaw, Grayling, became the bride of Mark Michael Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell of Detroit Saturday, August 28th, at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Rev. Father Thomas Neis officiated at the three o'clock nuptial mass before some 200 guests.

The decorations consisted of white baskets filled with pink gladioli. Music was provided by Patricia Duley, Maureen Hoffman and Mary Liz McNamara. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white organza with empire styling, featuring a chapel train and seed pearl trim. Her Camelet styled headpiece held her veil of bridal illusion, trimmed with lace and seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white daisy pompons.

Maid of honor was Therese Golnick, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of pink dotted Swiss with white daisy trim. Bridesmaids were Janelle McClain, Wendy Weiss and Mary Kay Blaauw. Their dresses were of green dotted Swiss with white daisy trim. All the attendants' gowns were of empire styling and they wore white garden hats. The maid of honor's bouquet was of pink and white daisy pompons while the bridesmaid's were of green and white daisy pompons.

Kathryn Golnick, sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a pink and green flowered floor length gown and carried a white basket filled with white daisy pompons.

Christopher Weaver served as best man. Groomsmen were Donald "Butch" Weaver, Dennis Marelich and Donald Millure. A reception followed at the Officer's Club at Camp Grayling.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Golnick chose a floor length yellow dress with a chiffon jacket and a corsage of yellow and white daisy pompons. Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the groom, wore a floor length dress of mint green with long sleeves. Her corsage was of green and white daisy pompons.

The new Mrs. Mitchell is a graduate of Grayling High School and attended Kirtland Community College. Her husband is also a graduate of Grayling High School.

Following a 20 day honeymoon trip to Florida, the newlyweds will make their home in Detroit.

Out of town guests present were from Detroit, Buchanan, Big Rapids, Livonia, Gaylord, Cadillac and North Carolina.

OLD BUSINESS:

Mr. McEvers opened the public hearing on a permit to operate buses from the Senior Citizen Center. Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Bidia both indicated that they would be opposed to the operation of Greyhound buses from that location as it is a residential area. Mrs. Lora Gould stated that the Greyhound service was no longer an issue as that service will probably stay at its present location. Several questions were asked about the Dial-a-ride system. Motion by McEvers, supported by Hanson that action on the permit for Dial-a-ride be tabled until the first meeting in September. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, motion carried.

Mr. McEvers stated that Police handling of the complaint would be investigated. It was explained to those present that Police attendance at the picket line was as much for the protection of the picketers as for those entering or leaving the plant. It was also stated that patrols past the picket line will be increased to further control the situation.

Mr. Elmer Fenton asked if stop signs could replace the yield signs at Lake and Chestnut Streets. Council directed the Police Chief and the City Treasurer to investigate and make a recommendation.

Prelude to a Date

The wheels are turning... those mental wheels... and the emotional ones, too—that in this "computer age" solve the equations of romance.

And like any computer the teen-age mind operates the way it has been programmed. Already he has some firm ideas about girls, and she equally firm ideas about boys. Each knows the kind of person he likes, the kind of character he respects, the kind of relationship he considers worthwhile.

Of course, the immediate question is whether to date. But the deeper question, of serious concern to their parents and to their own future: what standards, what principles, what convictions will they bring with them on a date?

That part of the programming, Parent, is largely your responsibility. And only YOUR CHURCH can effectively share it with you!

Schools Reduced & Free Lunch Policies

Crawford AuSable School Dist. today announced its policy for Free Meals and Free Milk or Reduced-Price Meals, for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk Program, and U.S.D.A. Donated Foods Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A SCALE FOR FREE MEALS AND FREE MILK	B SCALE FOR REDUCED-PRICE MEALS
1	$ 3,680	$ 3,681 - 5,730
2	4,830	4,831 - 7,530
3	5,980	5,981 - 9,320
4	7,130	7,131 - 11,110
5	8,190	8,191 - 12,770
6	9,240	9,241 - 14,410

10	12,870	12,871 - 20,090

12	14,590	14,591 - 22,770
EACH ADDITIONAL FAMILY MEMBER	$ 860	$ 1,340

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for (free meals and milk, or reduced-price meals). In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

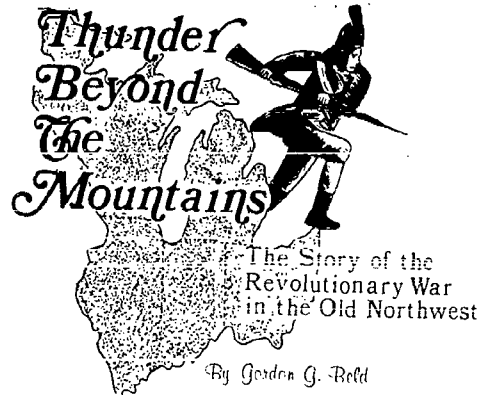

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

Children of unemployed parents may qualify for free or reduced price meals and/or free milk if total family income including welfare payments, unemployment compensation and sub-pay benefits fall within the prescribed family income guidelines.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy Paul Lerg, Business Manager will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Paul Lerg, Business Manager, 403 Michigan Avenue, Grayling, MI 49738 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure. Each school and the Central Office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

It's not likely that there was a more persistent Indian fighter west of the Alleghenies in 1778 than Simon Kenton. So it would seem that, while he was a captive of Indians in the Ohio wilderness that autumn, the last two men he might want to meet would be Simon Girty, the notorious white leader of red men, and Mingo Chief Logan.

But within a few days Kenton did happen to cross paths with both of them, and to this fact he can attribute his living beyond the age of 23.

He had been in the West for seven years at that time, having fled from Virginia when he was 16 after a battle with a rival in a love affair. Kenton believed that he had killed his foe and went to Kentucky where he lived under the assumed name of Simon Butler.

In 1774 Kenton served as a scout in Dunmore's War, a campaign in which Girty and Logan also had roles. Girty, a comrade of Kenton earlier at Fort Pitt, also served with him in the British force under Lord Dunmore. Indians, incited by Logan to attack frontiersmen, were the targets of Dunmore's expedition which culminated at the junction of the Kanawha and Ohio rivers in the Battle of Point Pleasant.

But four years later, with Britain at war against her American colonies, Kenton had taken up arms against the redcoats and Indians of the Old Northwest while Girty was in the employ of the British as a recruiter and leader of Indians.

After participating in George Rogers Clark's successful campaign in the Illinois country earlier in the year, Kenton was back in Kentucky in early September and then, with two companions, went northward into what is now Ohio to steal horses from Indians. Encountering stormy weather when they reached the Ohio River with seven captured horses, they were unable to get the animals across and were eventually overtaken by pursuing braves. One of Kenton's comrades escaped and the other was killed. He himself was captured and tortured during a three-day journey to the Shawnee village of Old Chillicothe (present-day Oldtown, Ohio).

Here he was forced to run the gauntlet — two rows of Indians about six feet apart, all armed with sticks and intent upon beating their captive as he ran between them. At Chillicothe the Indians decided that Kenton should be put to death at the village of Wapatomica (now Zanesfield, Ohio) and proceeded to take him there. At two other Indian villages on the route he was again forced to run the gauntlet. After the second of these trials, Kenton managed to escape but encountered another group of warriors who brought him back.

Fortunately for Kenton, Girty was at Wapatomica when his captors brought him there. Girty was able to persuade the Indians to spare the life of his former comrade — but more trouble developed for Kenton when a war party that had been badly beaten by whites returned to the village. They were intent upon revenge and Kenton was a convenient target for it. Again his fate was deliberated. Girty was unable this time to convince the red men to spare Kenton's life, but he did succeed in persuading them to take the prisoner to Upper Sandusky for execution.

On the way Kenton and his captors made an overnight stop at a small village on the Scioto River and here Kenton met and conversed with Logan. The Mingo chief detained the group on the following day and sent two of his braves to Upper Sandusky to speak to the British Indian agent there in Kenton's behalf. By paying the Indians a ransom and telling them that their prisoner might have information that would be valuable to the British, he was able to obtain custody of Kenton and send him to Detroit.

At Detroit, where Kenton and most other prisoners were permitted to move about freely in the town, he made the acquaintance of the wife of an Indian trader named Harvey. Kenton had a way with the ladies and soon had Mrs. Harvey collecting supplies for his use in an escape attempt. Participating with Kenton in the plot were Nathan Bullitt and Jesse Coffey, prisoners from Kentucky who were brought to Detroit by Indians early in 1779. On June 3 of that year Mrs. Harvey took three rifles from a group of Indians that were too drunk to notice her and hid them in her pea patch. She notified Kenton and placed a ladder against the picketed wall at the back of her garden so that he, Bullitt and Coffey could escape. When Kenton reached the garden, according to one historian, Mrs. Harvey "handed him the rifles, gave him a friendly shake of the hand, and bid him a safe journey to his friends and countrymen."

The trio reached the fall of the Ohio in July. Subsequently, Kenton again saw action with Clark in the Old Northwest. In 1782 he learned that the rival in love that he believed that he had killed was in fact still alive, so he returned to Virginia to visit his family. They went with him back to Kentucky, but Kenton's aged father died during the journey. Kenton settled near Maysville, Kentucky, but later moved to Ohio. In 1836 he died near Zanesfield, not far from the Indian village where he had renewed his acquaintance with Girty 50 years earlier.

George Mason Chapter of T.U.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the George Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited was held Tuesday the 24th of August at the Chief Shoppenagon Hotel. Robert Smock Jr., director of the Crawford County Youth Services, was guest speaker and gave an inside picture to his future plans to clean up the AuSable River and its tributaries and keep them as litter free as possible. The board gave merit to his work and donated $100 to the organization for the perpetuation of this program.

We are trying at this time to draw up a format for this coming years activities. At the head of our list we would like to see a stronger participation by some of the members and a definite increase in the membership of the George Mason Chapter as it is the oldest chapter in Trout Unlimited.

We would like at this time to extend an invitation to the members to come to our board meetings and present your ideas and expand our views.

The meetings are held the fourth Tuesday of every month. The next meeting is September 28th at the Chief Shoppenagon Hotel at noon. Anyone who is new or old to the area and wishes to learn more of trout unlimited is welcome also.

Thank You,
Gail Madsen

BEAR ARCHERY ANNOUNCES SOUTH CAROLINA MANUFACTURING—Bear Archery Division, Victor Comptometer Corporation, began production this week here on a new Bear Lighttarget product line for introduction this fall to the fast growing archery market, according to an announcement by Robert F. Kelly, Executive Vice-President of the Grayling, Michigan based firm.

The new Bear Lighttarget being manufactured here was invented and designed by Leonard Meyer of Columbia, South Carolina, formerly associated with the Shakespeare Archery operation located here until operations ceased last year. The 3 in 1 target will be shipped in a convenient container for efficient dealer display and storage and can be assembled in just minutes. It weighs less than 10 pounds. The Lighttarget resists weather, rot and the attack of insects and small critters. Due to its light weight, it can be easily moved about and stored when not in use. The individual target sections can be rearranged for maximum target life. In fact, up to three times the normal target life can be realized by rearranging the various sections of the new Bear Lighttarget.

According to Kelly, "The archery market has long needed an efficient, lightweight target capable of standing up to repeated arrow penetration. We believe this new target fills the bill and we are pleased to manufacture it here in the friendly South."

Ground Fire Danger Draws DNR Caution

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written by Greg Lusk, DNR Forest Fire Control Specialist at Marquette, before the Seney fire in the U.P. His thoughts—especially now—are shared by Forest Fire specialists throughout Michigan.

LANSING—Fire weather in Michigan, which includes every county in both peninsulas, is a triangle of elements involving drought, heat and wind usually occurring in the spring and fall.

This summer, however, is unusual since rainfall has been less than half of the amount normally received, note Department of Natural Resources Forest Fire specialists statewide.

Consequently, dead branches and forest litter have dried to a point that ignition will occur whenever people are careless or malicious, or where the turbulent air gives birth to lightning (which apparently caused the Seney fire burning in Schoolcraft County).

The DNR reports an average of 60 ground fires for each week since early July, including 75 last week alone. About 25 fires are still burning in Michigan, although none are as large as the one in the Seney National Wildlife Refuge, which has devastated over 30 square miles of wilderness area.

During the summer months when drought conditions exist, fires burn deeply, often consuming entirely the upper organic layer of the soil. Although "ground fires" are not as spectacular as fast moving surface fires, they do greater permanent damage to the forest. Fires of this type may leave nothing but bare rocks with a skin of mineral soil.

Ground fires, once started, are very persistent since combustion needs little or no outside oxygen to proceed. The materials themselves provide such good insulation that very little heat of combustion is lost, and at very low moisture contents the ground fuels develop a water repellent nature and resist wetting.

Fire will persist for a long time and travel underground in dead roots, especially in large partially decayed lateral roots extending from snags. Fires can escape control by following root tunnels under the control lines or by long delayed ignition of materials still unburned inside the line after mop-up is thought to be complete.

When these fires reach the surface, they often start fires outside the control line.

When forest fires are started by man, they are usually found near a road. But when lightning strikes an inaccessible rock knob with precipitous faces falling straight away hundreds of feet, the job of the firefighter is compounded.

Forest fire specialists must carry all of their equipment and supplies in and out on their back.

Finding water to quench these fires is also a problem, particularly during Michigan's present drought situation, since once active creeks and streams may be dried to riverbeds of dry rocks.

To fight fire under these circumstances means carrying in or pumping water long distances, perhaps a half a mile or more. Once on the scene, the fire fighter is faced with very rugged and broken topography, and falling off of a cliff is always a possibility.

Huge white pines or cedars with their roots burned through may come crashing down the hillside at any time in a slight wind, leaving behind it a trail of fire. These snags are difficult to extinguish since they may burn inside the tree for several feet above the ground.

Needless to say, ground fires are difficult and expensive to extinguish regardless of how or where they start—fires of this type may cost thousands of dollars for relatively small acreages.

Fighting forest fires is a dirty, dangerous and difficult business, sometimes exciting but always expensive in dollars and resources.

The DNR offers a suggestion to visitors to Michigan's 4.3 million acres of state forest lands—"Remember, only you can help."
